

Meeting & Events at The Wood Norton

A PERFECT VENUE

The Wood Norton is a beautifully crafted hotel built by the Duc D'Orleans, exiled French Royalty in 1897. Home to the D'Orleans family who lived here until 1912, featuring original 19th century French decorative interiors and the very best the modern world has to offer.

In 1939 the estate was famously bought by the BBC so it could relocate its operations away from London in the event of hostilities.

The Wood Norton now offers 50 bedrooms, including 6 spectacular suites, a two rosette restaurant using the finest local produce, contemporary bar and alfresco dining terrace, sumptuous private dining and 3 state-of-the-art meeting rooms accommodating events from 2 – 120 people

Ideally located just 30 minutes South of Birmingham, easily accessible from three major Motorways the M5 just 10 Miles and the M42 & M40 only 15 minutes' drive away and Evesham Train Station just 2 miles away with direct links to London Paddington Station.
